JOHN PEAKE JOLTED

The Fourth Ward Councilman Assaulted.

KNOCKED DOWN SEVERAL TIMES

He Made No Effort to Return the Blows and Only Defended Himself by Throwing Up His Hands—His Assaultants Were the Hutchison Boys—The Different Sides.

Councilman John Peake, of the Fourth ward, and the two sons of W. C. Hutchison, proprietor of the National Hotel, figured prominently in a sensational episode over the river yesterday afternoon, and today the legislator is rather sore.

The story as it appeared on the streets late in the afternoon showed that Peake had been at the National House, and from there went over the river where he had been in conversation with Hutchison. Rumor was rife as to what passed between the two men, but it was freely stated that they had warm words, followed by the councilman leaving abruptly, and walking to the river. While waiting for the ferry he was approached by Charles and Newton Hutchison, and in less time than it takes to tell there was the liveliest row of the season. Peake was knocked down several times, and after the first few blows was bleeding freely at the nose and mouth. After the boys had all the revenge, fun or whatever they wanted they left the councilman and departed on their way. Peake crossed the river, and got into town where he was cared for, and was soon almost as well as ever. A reporter called at his place of business on Jethro street this morning where he made this statement:

"I had been in the bar room, and came out to the hallway door of the residence. There I met Mr. Humphrey, who is employed at the house, and asked him where Miss Lizzie was. He replied that she was in the kitchen, ironing. I then walked away, and went over the river to see Hutchison. When I met him I said: 'Will you give me your daughter?' In reply he used strong language, and ordered me off the grounds. I said: 'Oh, well, if you're going to get mad I'll say nothing more to you.' I only said it jokingly, but he got very mad about it and I walked away from him. I started for the ferry boat and when approaching the landing Charley Hutchison and his brother followed after me, and they at once attacked me. Both struck me, and knocked me down. I made no resistance except to throw up my hands to protect myself. I did not see Miss Hutchison, and did not utter one word that could be construed into offensive remarks respecting her."

From Charles Hutchison, Sr., the following information was gleaned, as he was busily engaged in beautifying National park, on the West Virginia shore: "Peake came into my hotel yesterday afternoon and was served a single glass of beer by King Harker. Peake afterward passed through the barroom and went up stairs. A prominent citizen of East Liverpool said to Harker, 'What business has Peake up stairs?' Harker at once followed him up and upon overtaking him asked him what he meant by wandering through the house. He replied that he wanted to see Miss Lizzie, Charlie, my eldest son at home, overheard the talk and came out into the hallway and asked Harker what the difficulty was. Harker told Charley what Peake had been doing. Charley then went to Peake in the hallway, and asked him what he desired. He said he wanted to see his sister Lizzie. My son asked him his object in seeing her and he said he would not tell him. Charley told him that his actions were certainly peculiar, that Lizzie was in the cellar washing, but that Peake could not see her under any circumstances. Peake then asked for me, telling Charley that his father would not object to him conversing with Lizzie, and asked where I was. Charley told him I was at the park over the river, and Peake started for Virginia. He came to me where I was working on the pavilion and told me of the trouble. I asked him his object in desiring to see my daughter who is not yet 18 years of age, when he replied that he wanted to talk to her about uniting with him in marriage. The statement astounded me and made me angry, naturally, and I picked up a hatchet and informed him that I would incapacitate him for matrimony for all time. Jack McGinnis and Joe Bradley, employees of mine, interfered, and begged me not to cause any trouble, as it would injure the prospects of the park. I told Peake he should hide his head in shame, talking about marriage so soon after the demise of his wife, and ordered him from the grounds. He obeyed my order and went instantly. The more I thought of his proposition, and his actions about my house during my absence, the angrier I got, and I quietly slipped through the orchard after him. As I reached the base ball ground connected with the park, next the public roadway, I met my two sons, Charles and Newton, exercising my horse. I told them to jump out of the cart, follow Peake up and give him a good thumping. They obeyed the order with alacrity, overtook Peake and Charley sprang in front of him and I told him he was going to punish him as he deserved, following up this information with a few cutting blows, and then a straight drive from the shoulder, which floored Peake instantly. Newton also struck at him, but missed him. Peake was afterwards picked up by someone and taken to the ferry boat, where the blood was washed from his handsome phiz. Constable Metsch was after my sons in the meantime, and they, not wishing to be arrested, sauntered down the river, crossed over and came home. If Peake wants further trouble, he can be accommodated on sight, and will be if he annoys my daughter or my home in the future."

Mr. Peake is but slightly injured being marked about the face and near the mouth. When struck he bled freely but the assault left no severe effects.

A CLOSE CALL.

Street Car Came Near being Struck By a Train.

That East End was not the scene of a terrible accident last night was due more to luck than good management.

A street car, whose motorman's identity is still a mystery, was laden with women and children and a few men returning from the private picnic of the manufacturers at Columbian park last night. When the railroad was reached the motorman did not stop as is the custom, and as the car jolted over the track the passengers were rooted to their seats in horror, for not 25 yards distant was a freight train, west bound, and coming at full speed. Fortunately the trolley did not jump from the wire. If it had the result would have been terrible to contemplate, but the train passed only a few feet behind the car.

The motorman was evidently a new man, as he paid no attention to the electric alarm which rings loudly at the approach of every train as a warning for cars to stop, and which was ringing as usual when he crossed the track.

WILL PROSECUTE.

The Humane Society Only Wants Information and Evidence.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW.—We have noticed of late in your columns where the Columbiana County Humane society have been censured for not seeing that the humane laws were enforced in cases of neglect and cruelty to animals. Now we have to say that all such cases do not come under the eye of agents of the society, consequently we have to depend on citizens to aid us. Why do not parties seeing acts of cruelty report the case to the society and furnish evidence that will convict? If that is done we will guarantee that all cases will be prosecuted and the name of the informant kept confidential. A citizen that has not the courage to aid us, we think, should keep quiet or come to the front with his complaint and give the name of the offender and witnesses; then all cases of cruelty will be attended to promptly. THOMAS LLOYD, Agent Columbiana County Humane society.

OUT OF THE DIAMOND.

The Derrick Moved by Mutual Consent.

The Farmer derrick that has reared its unsightly head above the dirty pavement in the Diamond and has stood out against the soldiers monument with disgraceful distinctness was moved last night to one of the city's vacant lots on Market street. The city and the litigants decided that the thing could be chanced from its position without harm to either side, and with great benefit to the public.

WANTS TO SELL A SWEEPER.

Agent Hershe is Here to Talk With Councilmen.

Agent Hershe, the street sweeper man, who took a committee of councilmen to see his machine in operation in Pittsburgh several months ago, is in town today. To a reporter he said he had not given up all hope of selling a machine here, and he had come for the purpose of talking over with the new councilmen and recalling what he said to the men in council when he was here before.

COME, LET US CLEAN UP

The Streets Are Filthier Than Ever Before.

WINDOWS MUST BE CLOSED

Housewives Compelled to Stifle In Hot Rooms or See Their Furniture Ruined Before Their Eyes—A Monstrous Kick From Every Quarter—A New System Needed.

The filthy condition of the streets is the subject of common remark, and, people in every walk of life are clamoring for some system of cleaning that will keep down the dust when it is dry and prevent the formation of mud puddles when it is wet.

A reporter made a round of the paved streets yesterday, and found a condition which calls loudly for improvement. Second street was the starting point, and it looked anything but lovely in the carpet of vegetable filth which almost concealed the bricks from view. On one side the gutters were comparatively clean, but the other made up for what its companion lacked. There was dirt and dust everywhere, enough of it to make an unfavorable impression upon the visitor. Broadway and Washington street, having been washed by the rain a week ago, present a better appearance, but not much. Waste paper and old rags were seen in plentiful abundance, while the filth swept down from the hill streets made its presence known in more ways than one. Market street was not so bad, in fact it looked very well when compared with the others, but Third street did not glow as a vision of beauty and loveliness. One of the specialties there was old tin cans, although it could be seen that an effort had been made to clean the pavement by residents. At the lower portion an abandon worthy a nobler cause was plainly discernible. Fourth street is not a model of cleanliness. On the opposite hand it shows well in the opposite direction. Residents have done their best to wash with small hose the accumulated dirt into the gutter, and some of this is what makes the hill streets so undesirable. On Fifth street the presence of the cleaner was needed. From Market to the cemetery it is dirty, and as far as Broadway it seems to have been visited by storms of dirt. But Sixth street is even worse, while Broadway, from Fifth to the intersection, is littered with rubbish. East Market looks very well, and at times the paving looks as though it had been well washed, but the Diamond is a poem in dirt. The derrick and what rubbish it has made does not look so bad when one glances at the paving. There is dirt in all its glory. Big piles and little piles, while here and there a small piece of paving looks through the gloomy sea about it, an island which tells of what might have been had the right system of cleaning been used when the paving was first laid. When the wind blows, great clouds of dust fill the air, and one would imagine he was in the midst of a desert instead of upon a business street, in an enterprising town. Sixth street from the Diamond to Franklin, is another abomination, and West Market looks like a wilderness at times. Walnut street is never the cleanest in the world, and Forest street would be visibly improved by a thorough renovation.

Yesterday afternoon when the wind blew strong and the city was covered with a cloud of dust, the streets were swept bare. The eyes and ears of pedestrians were filled, and all the business houses felt the storm by seeing merchandise covered with a thin coating of sand. Housewives who have learned wisdom from past experiences hastened to shut doors and windows, and were then compelled to sit in stifling rooms until the wind died out. If there is any other town in the state where the streets are paved and these conditions prevail it has not yet been heard of. Bellaire, Bridgeport, Martin's Ferry, Zanesville, Newark and a dozen other cities are fair to look upon, while many of the towns in Western Pennsylvania are in much better condition. Salem attends more strictly to its streets, and Lisbon does not forget to clean its one. In these towns they have sufficient local pride to keep the streets in presentable condition.

The general public does not care a row of pins what method is used. Whether it be a sweeper or a hose without a nozzle makes no difference. The only question is cost and efficiency. If a sweeper can be purchased for a small investment and the commissioner can operate it with his men three days in the week, devoting the other three days to unpaved streets, there should be no objection from any quarter. All mankind would be satisfied and the city would be clean. If it is found that water from a hose will not injure the paving, that is by far the most economical method. Fire plugs are scattered so generously over the city that there would be little inconvenience and expense attached to this method. Commissioner Welch cannot be blamed, for he uses all the means at his command. Council should take the matter in hand and evolve some means more modern than those now in use. Liverpool is no longer a country village.

SHATTERED THE BOAT.

A Bolt of Lightning After a River Trader.

The trading boat owned by William Farnsworth that was anchored here last week was badly damaged in the big storm that swept over Toronto. When the lightning was flashing all around them the fluid struck a corner, passed down the side, ran along the gunwale, and out at another corner, making the boat a helpless wreck. Three women who slept in the middle of the craft were not hurt. Another boat belonging to Joseph Lamb, of this place, was lashed to the other, but was not touched. As soon as the craft is repaired it will continue its journey to Sistersville. The storm was a beautiful electrical display, and rain fell in torrents at Toronto.

AUDUBONS WON.

An Exciting Game at West End Grounds Yesterday.

The Audubon and Duquesne clubs battled on the West End grounds yesterday. The Duquesnes say they played the Twin Cities and Shau-rocks, but the Audubons say it was a strictly club nine and the man who decides the question will be given a medal. At any rate the score stood 8 to 5 in favor of the Audubons at the end of the ninth inning, the winners having four hits and the Duquesnes eight. Ashbaugh, of the Duquesnes, made a record of striking out 16 men. The Duquesnes say they thirst anew for Audubon gore and will soon issue a challenge for another game.

MOVING THE PATROL.

The New Quarters At Central Station Are Ready.

The work of moving the patrol from its convenient location near city hall to central fire station on Broadway, was commenced today, and runs will soon be made from the new quarters. It will require no little work to move the switch board and wire connections, but no time will be lost. The advantage of the new location are that the city escapes heavy damages since the old buildings are to be torn down, and the patrolman will have more distance to ride. As the reel will be taken from central station, and kept in a building nearby, the disadvantages are not so great.

AFFECTING RATES.

The Keystone Fire Will Be Considered by the Underwriters.

The burning of the Keystone pottery will have an effect upon insurance rates in all pottery towns, particularly in East Liverpool. It is remarkable, but nevertheless a fact, that every time an effort has been made to have insurance rates lowered a pottery has conveniently burned down to scare the underwriters and make them hesitate. After the Dresden was destroyed two years ago the rates were raised to the existing standard, although local agents were attempting at that time to have them lowered.

NEW OFFICERS.

Golden Eagle Elect Guides For the ensuing Year.

Hope castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, in regular session last night elected the following officers: Noble chief, J. C. Colley; vice noble chief, Harry Skelton; high priest, Homer Twaddle; venerable hermit, John Hicks; master of records, Joseph Smith; clerk of exchequer, W. H. Bright; keeper of exchequer, Ollie Manley; trustee, Thomas Buckley.

W. H. Bright was chosen as representative to the meeting of the grand castle to be held in Dayton next September.

LIABLE FOR TAXES.

The Supreme Court Has An Interesting Decision For Mine Owners.

The supreme court yesterday decided that the auditor of Guernsey county did right when he placed mines on the tax duplicate, and called upon the owners to pay up. They objected on the ground that the owner of the surface of the land was the only one liable for taxes. The lower court agreed with the auditor and the supreme court sustained them. The decision is interesting because it affects the mines in this county as well, and will make a new source of expenditure for the companies.

POWER IS AFTER GORE

He Took to Himself a Newspaper Item

AND WANTED AN ABJECT APOLOGY

If This Did Not Come He Was Going To Have Human Life, But He Didn't Get Either—Instead He Was Quietly Ordered Out, and Went.

This would-be newspaper man called at the News Review office about noon today and was greeted courteously, as is every one who visits the sanctum. Power asked to see the issue of June 21, and it was hunted up for him. After looking over it, he failed to find the item he was seeking, and then wanted the issue of the 20th. Still he failed to connect and the 19th was submitted to his august majesty, when he pounced upon the following local, which appeared in Wednesday's issue, June 19:

"It is quietly whispered about that the wife of a local newspaper man has wearied of married life, and gone to the home of her parents, in a town not a thousand miles from Liverpool."

Then James A. Power, assuming a tragic and heroic attitude, from his height of five foot five, thundered forth, "Does that mean me?" He was quietly informed that newspaper men, men who understood their business, do not answer such pointed questions. Then the bantam became still more insolent and yelled out, "I demand an answer; does that have reference to me?" Again came the quiet answer, "That's our own business." And then the awful storm broke forth, and the Powerful young fellow shouted:

"See here, if that means me, and you don't publish an abject apology in this evening's issue, it will cost you your life."

The insolent fellow was then ordered to leave the office, but refused to go, and was taken by the arm and unceremoniously hustled out. As he reached the head of the stairs he halted and yelled, in an awful, nerve-cutting, blood-curdling tone of voice, "I'll fix you tonight." Selah.

Grosshans, center field; E. D. Marshall, right field; G. Y. Travis, J. J. Purinton, A. H. Clark, Colonel Hill, J. E. McDonald, R. G. Thompson, W. B. Hill, substitutes.

They want to play with the doctors, but if the medics cannot organize a team they will play any other club on earth.

THE KEYSTONE BURNED.

A Rochester Pottery Went Heavenward To Smoke.

Yesterday the pottery of the Keystone company at Rochester was destroyed by fire, only the kilns and a portion of the walls remaining to tell the story. The fire was discovered by the watchman and efforts were made to save the plant, but the start was so great that nothing could be saved. Miller Bros., of Rochester, operated the pottery, and were the principal owners. The loss is $50,000 on which there was an insurance in the Lloyd's companies of $30,000. Two employees were hurt by falling walls.

GOMEZ WINS VICTORIES

Two Serious Disasters to Spanish Arms in Cuba.

TWO GARRISONS CAPTURED.

The Rebel Leader Then Destroys the Town by Fire - A Spanish Lieutenant Likely to Be Shot - The City of Puerto Principe Surrounded by Rebels.

HAVANA, June 27.—The most serious news of Spanish disasters since the outbreak of the rebellion has reached here. The garrisons of two towns have surrendered and the places themselves have been burned by Maximo Gomez.

It appears that the garrison at El Mulato, in the province of Puerto Principe, near the city of Puerto Principe, has surrendered to Maximo Gomez. The garrison consisted of about 25 Spanish soldiers under Lieutenant Romero, and they quartered in a guano house, fortified with palisades and pierced with loopholes for rifles. The place was also provisioned and contained a considerable stock of ammunition. During the unexplained absence of Lieutenant Romero, the fort was surrounded by about 1,000 insurgents under the command of Maximo Gomez.

The latter sent a messenger to the garrison of El Mulato announcing that he gave the soldiers 15 minutes in which to surrender, with the alternative of being fired upon by the full insurgent force if they refused to do so. It is added that the soldiers were willing to fight and were about to do so when Lieutenant Romero arrived at the fort, and his presence being made known to Maximo Gomez, the latter sent him a second note, demanding a surrender. Thereupon the lieutenant surrendered the garrison, against the desire of his soldiers, who were much indignant at being compelled to capitulate without firing a shot. When the garrison was in the hands of the insurgents, Maximo Gomez ordered the village of El Mulato to be burned, and after depriving Lieutenant Romero of his arms, set him at liberty.

The lieutenant was afterwards arrested by the authorities of Puerto Principe and it is thought that he will be promptly tried by courtmartial and shot, like Lieutenant Calleja, who commanded a garrison which was surprised in a similar manner while the lieutenant in command was away.

In addition the town of Sangeronimo, situated about 15 kilometers southwest of El Mulato, has met the same fate as the latter place. It was attacked by the insurgents under Maximo Gomez and was burned to the ground after its garrison of about 50 men had surrendered. In this case, however, it is stated that the soldiers succeeded in saving a great part of the stores of ammunition before the Fort of Sangeronimo was captured by the enemy.

Advices which have reached here from Puerto Principe would seem to indicate that the city is invested by the insurgents. It is rumored here that Antonio Maceo has succeeded in making his way from the province of Santiago de Cuba into the province of Puerto Principe at the head of a large body of insurgents, and it may be his intention to join his forces with those of Gomez and make a combined attack upon Puerto Principe.

LAWYER HELD FOR RANSOM.

The Excellent Experience of a Prominent Attorney in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, June 27.—Octavius O. Cottle, a prominent Buffalo lawyer, has been found bound and gagged in the cellar of a vacant house at Black Rock. He had been there all night. The police are mystified.

Mr. Cottle's story is as follows: On Monday morning an unknown man drove to his house and told him a man on Chenango street desired to make a real estate deal with him. Mr. Cottle was driven to an unoccupied cottage in Haynes street, where on entering he was seized by his guide and another man and gagged and bound.

Money was demanded, and under threats, he was compelled to write a note to his wife saying that he was under arrest in Fort Erie and asking for $2,500. The man with the buggy drove back to Mr. Cottle's house with the note and delivered it to Mrs. Cottle, who called upon her son for advice. The latter went out to confer with the man who rode away. Mr. Cottle was kept in bondage for two days. The men finally got scared and left him. His groans brought the police.

GLADDEN ROASTS CORPORATIONS.

Railway Managers Should Suffer as Debs Suffers.

OBERLIN, O., June 27.—Dr. Washington Gladden of Columbus delivered an address at the sociological convention, principally devoted to the arraignment of corporations.

"Men are not created equal in ability," he said. "They are bound to drift apart. I do not argue that corporations shall not exist, simply that they ought to be watched."

"Mr. Debs is in jail at Chicago," he said. "How about the railroad managers of the Atchison railroad fraud? The day of judgment is at hand for soulless corporations. The government must find out whether they have any souls or not. They must prove without a doubt that they have one. If not, their power must be taken from them at whatever cost. We must have laws just as rigid for the capitalist as for the laborer."

Johnson's New Scheme.

CLEVELAND, June 27.—It is stated that a project is on foot, with the Hon. Tom L. Johnson as its chief promoter, to connect Cleveland and Toledo by an electric railway. A number of short electric roads are already in operation, or are under course of construction, between the two cities. These lines are controlled by Mr. Johnson, and it will only be necessary, it is said, to build from Fremont, O., to Toledo to complete a through line.

The Catholic Union of Ohio.

CLEVELAND, June 27.—At the convention of the Catholic Union of Ohio, a letter from Governor McKinley was read expressing regret at his inability to be present, also a telegram of the same nature. The secretary's report showed there were 300 delegates present, against 111 last year. Among the reports made by the executive committee was one protesting against the printing and posting of indecent pictures.

Will Postpone the Sale.

CLEVELAND, June 27.—Judge Ricks of the United States circuit court has issued an order permitting the consolidated mortgage bondholders of the Cleveland, Canton and Southern railway to pay the semi-annual interest on the first mortgage bonds due Jan. 1, 1895, amounting to $50,000. This will prevent the road, which is in the hands of a receiver, from being sold for at least six months.

A New Receiver Appointed.

CLEVELAND, June 27.—Thomas W. Hill, cashier of the Cleveland National bank, has been appointed a receiver for the Lorain Manufacturing company. Suit was brought by Adolph Pollock to subject stockholders liabilities. The bond is $100,000. Mr. Louis J. Grossman, one of the interested parties, says the concern will pay 100 cents on the dollar.

Street Car Company Bitten.

TOLEDO, June 27.—A judgment of $9,603 was given against the Consolidated Street Railway company in favor of Lucas county for delinquent taxes, which the company claimed was offset by improvements and assessments. Another suit to recover $120,000 more on the same grounds is expected.

Strikers Resume Work.

CLEVELAND, June 27.—All of the 225 striking workmen at the United Steel works have returned to their places. The men struck for an increase of 15 cents a day, and they resumed work on a compromise of 10 cents.

Long Trip on a Bicycle.

CLEVELAND, June 27.—Edward R. Faxon of Hartford, Conn., has arrived in this city after a journey by bicycle from Hartford, a day and a half ahead of schedule.

Cincinnati Livestock Market.

CINCINNATI, June 26.
HOGS—Market active and firm at $4.25-$4.50; receipts, 2,900 head; shipments, 400 head.
CATTLE—Market steady at $2.25-$2.50; receipts, 700 head; shipments, 200 head.
SHEEP AND LAMBS—Sheep, market steady at $1.50-$2.00; receipts, 9,000 head; shipments, 1,800 head. Lambs, market steady at $2.75-$3.00.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Expressman Straus, who has been ill, is out again attending to his work.

John Lessells, who moved a short time ago to Steubenville, has returned with his family to this city.

There were no new cases at city hall today, and Mayor Gilbert had nothing today beyond an occasional smile at the evidence in the Farmer case.

A small boy is said to have been near to death when bathing in the river near the island yesterday afternoon. He was saved by other boys near by.

The Liverpool people who are preparing to go to Boston have all their arrangements completed, and expect to have the Pullman full, so great is the interest shown in the trip.

The linemen employed in connecting the junction pole at Fourth and Washington streets with the telephone exchange by two new cables have been at work all week, and are almost ready to call it a finished job.

Freight Agent Thomas has seen nothing of the way bills for the three new street cars which a local sheet mentioned as "having arrived at the local depot," and is wondering if by some new rule way bills are now sent in care of that paper.

A dozen Sons of Veterans left this morning for Shelton's grove between Lisbon and Salem, where they will go into camp for a few weeks. The boys have a complete outfit, and know how to get along in camp, having observed this custom for several years.

A party of youngsters thirsting for cool, delicious ice cream, and unable to bear the heat of yesterday afternoon without a cooling potion, walked away with a gallon from the basement of the Wells building. William Wells makes ice cream there, and during an absence of a few minutes the theft occurred.

The case of Nick Eck versus Nicholas Waggoner will hardly be tried today, as Squire Morley has decided that the defendant must first be found. The prospects for finding Waggoner are not bright and the 40 days required by law before his wages can be attached will probably expire before he appears.

Mrs. Trego, the lady who lectured here at the Women's Christian Temperance union convention, spoke in Steubenville on the same subject the other night. They did not think much of it, however, for there are more saloons in that wicked town than there were people in the audience. In this city Mrs. Trego had a large crowd of attentive listeners.

James Cannon, of Tiltonville, writes the NEWS REVIEW that he was not the passenger who had some words with a motorman the other day. He says the motorman caused him to miss a train a few weeks ago, and that he did not do any swearing. In proof of this he claims that the motorman could have easily had him arrested, since there was an officer on the car.

Pierre DeFord, of Augusta, came here yesterday to secure the services of Dr. F. M. Laughlin in performing an operation with Doctor Scott, of Cleveland, on Mr. DeFord's daughter, a well known young lady of that town. The operation is for the removal of a tumor and so delicate and dangerous that Doctor Scott would not agree to take part in the operation for any sum less than $200. Doctor Laughlin left last night for Augusta.

Motorman Newell was in hard luck yesterday. He operated three different cars and on each one the trolley rope broke and he was compelled to ascend to the roof and fix it. As Mr. Newell is not a small man he was not well pleased when he slipped from the roof and created the usual dull thud by coming in contact with the hard, unsympathetic earth. He thinks of purchasing a rubber trolley rope or a feather bed to fall on in the future.

After long and patient waiting enough rain has fallen in the East to give a rise of 18 inches in the river, and boatmen are hoping that packets will soon be moving. The Olivette does not draw much water, and came up from Steubenville today, doing a very good business. This is the first packet for weeks. Coal men about Pittsburg are anxious for a stage that will send their millions of coal to Cincinnati, but are fearful that it will not come until fall.

They were seated around a table in Martin's restaurant, trying to delude themselves into the belief that eating in warm weather is not a punishment for innumerable sins and a general discussion of the holiness question took place. The various sects were spoken of when a smart young man remarked with decision that there was only one sect that he was opposed to and would like to see prohibited from congregating on the street at night. The shock of the young man expressing such liberal views when he was reported to be a radical caused a suspension of hostilities against the provisions and someone unguardedly asked "what sect is that?" "Insect," replied the smart young man, and he escaped through a window, comparatively uninjured.

We have sold a pile of them this season. Some of them were great values, but it has been our luck to strike a lot this last week that for real value knocks them all out. 24-inch China Silk top, with the new Dresden handles, crooks and knobs, at $1.50 each. This is a $2.00 parasol and you will admit it when you see them.

Silk Mitts and Gloves.

Our trade has been large this year on these goods, and we attribute it to the grade of goods we are selling. The Merrill Silk Glove has no equal for wear as it has the double tips and is made to stand good solid wear. We sell them at the same prices you will have to pay for gloves not having the advantages we claim for the Merrill. We show a full line of Silk Mitts from 20c up to 50c per pair, made by the Amsterdam Silk Mills, and we guarantee more value for the money in this line of goods than you have been getting.

Wrappers. Tea Gowns.

We opened a new lot a few days ago. We want you to see them. When you can buy a wrapper for $1 like we are selling you will make no more wrappers. More style than you could possibly put on a wrapper inside of a day's hard work. The best of calico used, and the price about what the calico would cost you.

Towels.

Did you see that 25c towel of ours. If not you are missing the biggest thing in towels ever offered in the city. We have other values just as good, but you know 25c is a price that takes and we are selling more towels for that price than you ever bought.

WELLSVILLE.

SUES FOR THE BALANCE.

All the Money Not Paid In a Sensational Case.

A. W. Stevenson today entered suit in the court of Squire Rose in Liverpool on behalf of Mary E. Wells, who wants Milton C. Smith to pay her $43. The money is claimed as a balance on a settlement in a case she brought against him over a year ago. The developments were sensational, and Smith has been paying by installments, but the plaintiff grew weary of waiting, and brought this suit to hasten matters. Smith is a barber in Liverpool and the woman is well known in Wellsville. Both parties are colored. The original settlement was made before Squire McKenzie, of this place, but Smith was recently bound to court on a similar charge by Squire Rose.

VOTING FOR BONDS.

But All the Ballots, It Is Said, Do Not Read That Way.

The election to bond the city and improve the water works is on today, and the people are voting in larger numbers than was expected. There is some electioneering for and against the bonds, but the people are not manifesting the interest that was expected. At one polling place it was learned the vote would not be large, and at another the officers did not think they would get out enough to make a corporal's guard. It is predicted the bonds have more friends than the opposition.

Personal.

Miss Dee Andrews was in Pittsburg today calling on friends.

Frank Hawes, of Cincinnati, and Charles Clifton, of Pittsburg are the guests of Samuel Lythe. The gentlemen are touring on their bicycles and having a very good time.

Miss Etta Wells is the guest of Mrs. Taylor.

George B. Aten and daughter, Miss Bessie, are visiting in Lisbon. Leroy Behner, of Bayard, is now the operator at the lower depot.

A Street Parade.

When the prisoners at city hall were started out to work on the streets yesterday afternoon they made up a parade of no mean proportions, and attracted general attention. Five wanderers without money were in that motley gathering, and they were only waiting until such time as they could quietly slip away before shaking the dust of Wellsville off their feet.

Spring Grove Won.

The Hawleys went to Spring Grove yesterday afternoon, and met the best team of the camp on the diamond. The Spring Grove boys put up a good game and beat the Hawleys by a score of 19-17. There will be more games if the Hawleys can induce the camp club to play on another ground.

Picnics.

The Sunday school class of David Silvers enjoyed a picnic at Whitacre's Mills yesterday.

The United Presbyterians in maiden numbers boarded the Water Maiden this morning, and went to Rock Spring, where they are enjoying the annual picnic.

AFTER WARD.

Professor Wallace Says the Arresting Process Has Not Been Successful.

Professor Wallace, the exponent of millennial doctrine, will talk in the Diamond tonight, and in an interview acknowledged today that the arresting process has not been altogether successful. However he hopes eventually to win in the contest, and bring the new doctrine to a halt, but he acknowledges that it requires time. On bills scattered in the streets he announces his religion as the only true gospel, and his motto is "Peace on Earth."

IMPROVED THE JAIL.

It Is Clean and Strong and Looks Well.

The improvements at the jail were completed today, and it now looks as well as the old structure can be made to appear. The interior of the jail has been whitewashed, and is clean and sweet smelling. The weak parts have all been made strong, and it will be a smart prisoner who can get away from the place now. When asked about the cracks in the building an official remarked they were still there, and the old building was as dangerous as ever.

Opening the Park.

National Park, operated by C. A. Hutchison, is being opened this afternoon and the public is invited. The opening will last until late tonight, good music and dancing being the features. National Park is a beautiful place and the new pavilions and lights scattered about the grounds make it equally pretty at night.

Dawson Paid the Costs.

Job H. Dawson paid the costs in his vault case and Sanitary Officer King withdrew the charge today.

AFTER THE FARMERS.

Willis Gaston Has An Execution Issued Today—The Trial.

The Farmer case became more complicated. Today Willis Gaston had an execution issued for $41.92 judgment and costs from common pleas court against James F. J. and Helena Farmer. It was placed in the hands of Chief Gill.

Meanwhile the Childs' replevin case at city hall against Mrs. Farmer goes on. Childs testified that he leased Farmer the boiler in dispute for 60 days at $1 a day, with the privilege of purchase, and had received no money whatever, although Farmer still had the boiler. Farmer testified that the frame of the machine was twisted six inches from where it was before it was moved last night. He thought it would take two men two days and $15 to fix it. This was ruled out by the court as only the boiler was replevined. He was caught napping when he said the contract for the Diamond well was destroyed, and admitted finally that he didn't know where it was. Farmer was to pay W. H. McLean and J. R. Warner bills from his wages when he drilled their wells. He said he wouldn't answer when Attorney Hill asked if he was paid by his mother whether she got her money out of the work or not. The court said he guessed he would so Farmer said he was always paid. The lawyers began their arguments about 2:30 o'clock.

A DANGEROUS SEWER.

It May Flood Storerooms and Cause More Damage.

George Viney was at city hall this morning complaining about the sewer which has caused so much trouble in the Diamond. Only a short time ago it flooded the stores of Steinfeld & Viney and George Peach, and caused no end of damage. It continues to leak, and the property owners want it made as tight as possible, since life with it now is not a couch surrounded by fragrant flowers. The case is in the hands of Solicitor Clark, who will give it his attention.

Two Suits.

James E. Green has brought suit in replevin in Squire Morley's court against Conrad Goodballett involving an organ. Constable Lyon went to East End and brought the instrument to the city where it will remain until tomorrow morning when the trial will take place.

Frank Foutts has sued Ellen Hanlon in the court of Squire Morley for $37.92, the balance due on an account for groceries. He also wants interest since April, 1892. It will be heard on Saturday afternoon.

SMALLER THAN USUAL

"Pellets" are superior in a great many ways to all mineral waters, seditz powders, salts, castor oil, fruit syrups, laxative teas, and other purgative compounds. Made of concentrated vegetable ingredients, they act in a mild, natural way. Their secondary effect is to keep the liver active and the bowels regular, not to further constipate as is the case with other pills. They don't interfere in the least with the diet, habits of occupation, and produce no pain, griping or shock to the system.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. These "Pellets" are easily dissolved in the stomach and absorbed into the blood, stimulating a flow of bile from the liver, and arousing to activity all the glandular secretions. Thus they act in nature's own way. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner, to relieve distress from over-eating, they are unequalled.

They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Once used, always in favor.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It is better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

A rattling mill is said to have taken place in the rear of a house on Second street last night. The contestants had a difference of long standing, and when they met in the yard it was quietly settled. One wears a cut on his cheek.

A Big Fish.

James Brownlee, of the West End, was fishing with hook and line at the foot of Market street this morning when a German carp took the bait, and the fisherman almost lost his pole. He managed to play the monster until it was well tired out, and then drew it forth, a six pounder. Some good fish have been caught in the river recently.

Only a Drop in the Bucket.

When a party of wheelmen were riding through the city last evening an observer remarked, "There goes $2,500 in money, every cent of it paid out in the last few months. Who says that wheeling is not an institution?"

People who chew Kola gum never have that "don't care" spirit and "played out" feeling.

Resting Easier.

Charles Pancake, who has been dangerously ill, is resting easier today. He has not had a hemorrhage since June 17 and it is believed that danger from that source is past.

Wouldn't This Make Trouble?

PARIS, June 27.—The Eclair, referring to the conflict which has taken place between French citizens and citizens of Brazil on the frontier of French Guiana, says that advantage must be taken of the occurrence by France to formally claim the whole disputed territory, and especially to annex the entire country so far as the River Amazon.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Two more alleged members of the firebug gang, whose operations have involved the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars and put in peril many lives, have been arrested. They are Max Gluckman, the "chief mechanic" of the gang, and Adolph Hirschkopf, whose confession has led to the arrest of several others.

A Husband's Double Crime.

RICHMOND, Ind., June 27.—William Kouth clubbed his wife with a wooden roller and cut her throat with a razor. She escaped by jumping from the roof and fleeing to a neighbor's house. Kouth then set fire to the house, cut his own throat and died. Mrs. Kouth will not recover.
